Dear friends

“Blessed are the poor... in spirit” (Matthew 5:3 NIV)

Last Sunday (25th January) we were blessed by presentations from Christians Against Poverty at our morning services; I commend them to you on downtoearth tv or have a look at their own online resources and how they can offer support. But how come Jesus, in one of this morning's readings, seems to commend a form of poverty? Well, we know that Jesus was not speaking about finances and he was also promising a radical change of circumstances. He says that those who recognise their spiritual poverty will discover that the kingdom of heaven belongs to them. This is good news.

The apostle Paul takes a similarly contrary-sounding approach in today's epistle reading (1 Corinthians 1)– emphasising the centrality of the cross at the heart of Christian preaching. The cross looks like weakness and defeat but, defying human philosophy, it is God's way of salvation. As we welcome a new staff member, Thomas Murray and his family this weekend, this is a powerful reminder of Jesus' model of ministry; we serve the king who became poor so we can become rich. Please pray for Thomas, Jodie and the children as they settle into our parish.

If you need help of any kind– prayerful or practical, please get in touch with us directly or through the parish office.

Yours in Christ, Gareth
